When selecting your PNQ product, it's a good idea to have a visual example of something you like on hand.

The naturally formed stones used to produce PNQ's exposed and polished products may create subtle variations in colour and composition.

EXPOSED

- Consider the level of wash as this will affect the amount of exposed stone.
- Sealing exposed concrete will defend the surface and may alter the appearance.
- No guarantee of the products colour or textured finish is given or implied.

POLISHED

- The depth of cut will affect the amount of revealed stone when polishing.
- Reflectivity is dependent upon the amount of grit determined by the polisher.
